New Poll Shows Nevadans Wary of New Healthcare Law

(Las Vegas)--According to a poll commissioned by the Retail Association of Nevada (RAN), most Nevadans believe that ObamaCare will increase their healthcare costs and limit their access.

Most Nevadans (58%) believe the new healthcare law will increase their costs and worsen access to healthcare (47%). Only 26% believe that ObamaCare will lower their costs and improve access (35%). The remainder were unsure or believe that it will have no impact. (See chart below.)

The most recent RAN poll was conducted September 27-29 among a representative sample of 500 likely voters in Nevada. Both landline and cell phone interviews were conducted using live interviewers. The potential sampling error is +/- 4% at the 95% confidence level. Full results will be released later this week. RAN commissions their surveys twice a year, which allows trends to be identified and provides an historical context to some of the toughest challenges facing Nevada.
